

Report on Guest Lecture Called “EYES(Enlighten Yourself Every Saturday)”

The G. H. Rasoni University has initiated the series of Lectures called “EYES” (Enlighten Yourself Every Saturday) and the first lecture of this series was conducted by Shri. Vedprakash, District collector, Chhindwara on 18th September 2018.

The programme commenced with the lighting of the Ceremonial lamp by the Chief Guest Shri Vedprakash , District collector of Chhindwara , Dr. Rajan Welukar, Vice Chancellor, GHRU and Dr. Sophia Ansari, Registrar, GHRU

Dr. Rajan Welukar welcomed the Chief Guest and invited him to address the students & staff.

He emphasized chasing dreams happily is more worthy which helps to achieve goal very easily. Further, if dreams comes through hobbies they are chased more patiently till the end. One should overcome negativities and comparisons by dedicating completely to the work or passion.

Education isn't all about books and exams and tests, memorizing formulas and theorems. It's much more than that & bookish knowledge is not enough for survival in competent world. Participation in extracurricular activities initiates mental and physical activities for healthy co-ordination between team members, their active participation, for achieving the goals. Hence, such activities are the inception point for the other hidden skills of individuals which if developed properly gives an edge to the individual for his better career prospects and to sustain in the competitive world in a different way.

All the students & staff members were immanently benefitted by his knowledge. The occasion was graced by the presence of all the Deans & HOD's

The programme was concluded by the vote of thanks proposed by Dr. Sophia Ansari. All the coordinators worked hard for the success of the programme.
